

PRIVACY NOTICE

Who we are

MyWay Digital Health Ltd (MWDH Ltd) is a medical software company responsible for the MyDiabetes My Way (MDMW) service outside Scotland.

How we use your Information

The MDMW service focusses on diabetes and currently includes giving consenting patients secure access to their medical records, tailored education resources and in some cases the ability to upload results.

How do we use data?

MWDH Ltd uses patient information to underpin all of the above. It is only available to patients that have given their explicit and signed consent.

What data do we collect?

For consenting patients, we collect demographic and medical data relating to their diabetes condition, e.g. name, address, date of birth, height, weight, GP practice, type of diabetes, test results, eye and foot screening info, goals and medication.

What is a Privacy Notice for?

A Privacy Notice (which are also known as Fair Processing Notices) tells you about information we collect and hold about you, what we do with it, how we will look after it and who we might share it with. It is part of how we ensure we are open and transparent in the data processing activities we carry out in order to meet our service provision obligations.

It covers information we collect directly from you or receive from other individuals or organisations.

A Privacy Notice/Fair Processing Notice is a written statement that individuals are given when information is collected about them. As a minimum, a privacy notice should tell people who we are, what we are going to do with their information and who it will be shared with.

Opting Out

If you wish to opt out of the MDMW service please notify us via the Contact us details below and your information will be promptly and securely removed from our system.

Contact us

If you have any questions or concerns regarding how we use your information, please use the Contact Us section of our website.